Wreckage of lost Cambodian tourist plane found; 22 dead

1. Staphylococcus aureus (ATCC 12228) was grown in tryptic soy broth (TSB) (Difco) supplemented with 0.5% yeast extract (Difco) and 0.5% glucose (Difco) at 37°C. The cells were harvested at mid-log phase (OD<sub>600</sub> = 0.5) and washed with phosphate-buffered saline (PBS) (pH 7.4). The cells were then resuspended in PBS and sonicated using a Branson 250 sonifier (Branson Ultrasonics, Danbury, CT) for 10 min. The cell debris was removed by centrifugation at 10,000g for 10 min. The supernatant was then filtered through a 0.22 µm filter (Millex, Millipore, Bedford, MA) and stored at -20°C.

China shuts down 180 food makers using formaldehyde

BEIJING (AP) — China's government has shut down 180 food manufacturers for using formaldehyde to preserve food, a move that could affect the safety of food products sold in the country.

The move comes after a series of food safety scandals in China, including the discovery of melamine in milk powder and the use of industrial-grade cooking oil. The government has been cracking down on food safety violations to restore consumer confidence.

PCCI calls for more infra projects

By David P. Swartz

Providence, R.I. (AP) — The Rhode Island Department of Transportation is looking for private companies to build and operate a new toll road in the state's capital city. The department is seeking proposals for a 1.5-mile toll road that would connect the city's downtown area to the state's largest airport. The road would be built and operated by a private company, which would be responsible for all costs of construction and operation. The department is currently reviewing proposals and expects to make a decision in the near future.
